INPLP® International Network of Privacy Law Professionals

11TH ANNUAL CONFERENCE

AMSTERDAM · 20–22 NOVEMBER 2026

Scientific Session

Eight member-led sessions on privacy, AI and regulation — presented and debated by colleagues from across the network.

DATE	TIME	VENUE
Saturday, 21 November 2026	09:00 – 13:30	W Amsterdam, Spuistraat 175

Programme

Saturday, 21 November 2026 · W Amsterdam, Spuistraat 175 · Dress code: business casual · Please be seated by 08:50

09:00 – 09:05	Welcome & Setting the Scene Tobias Höllwarth (INPLP)
09:05 – 09:20	Six Months, One Agent-Built Platform Rebuilding INPLP with agentic AI and automating 90 % of back-office processes Tobias Höllwarth (INPLP)
09:20 – 09:45	Human Right or Consumer Right? Two concepts of privacy and what they mean in the age of AI Gabriela Espinosa Cantú (Arochi & Lindner, Mexico)
09:45 – 10:10	Mind the Gap: New Privacy Laws Managing compliance during the implementation period: a three-jurisdiction panel Dalit Ben-Israel (Naschitz Brandes Amir, Israel)
10:10 – 10:35	Drowning in Requests Data subject rights at scale: volume, AI-generated requests and tactical use by claimants Katie Hewson (Stephenson Harwood, UK)
10:35 – 11:00	Taking Control: Platform Liability for User-Generated Content Russmedia, Coyote/WebGroup and the narrowing of safe harbours under the DSA and beyond Peter Hense (Spirit Legal, Germany)
11:00 – 11:30	Coffee break
11:30 – 11:55	Agentic AI on Trial: The Character.AI Decision The Italian DPA's decision of 3 July 2026 as a reference case for AI enforcement Chiara Agostini (RPLT, Italy)
11:55 – 12:20	Who Controls the Agent? Controller, processor and joint controllership when AI acts autonomously Rachel Hayes (William Fry, Ireland)
12:20 – 12:45	Automated Decisions, Two Continents Regulating automated decision-making in the US and the EU, from the AI Act to the Workday litigation Odia Kagan (Fox Rothschild, USA)
12:45 – 13:10	One Incident, Many Clocks Coordinating breach notifications under GDPR, NIS2, DORA and beyond Julien Pétré (Molitor Avocats à la Cour, Luxembourg)
13:10 – 13:20	See You in Lisbon Introducing the next INPLP conference Ricardo Henriques (Abreu Advogados, Portugal)
13:20 – 13:30	Wrap-up and close of the scientific session
13:30 – 14:30	Lunch at Hotel W

OPENING · 09:00 – 09:20

Six Months, One Agent-Built Platform

Welcome & setting the scene, followed by a field report on rebuilding INPLP with agentic AI

Tobias Höllwarth (INPLP)

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

After a short welcome and an outline of the day, Tobias reports on six months of rebuilding the entire INPLP platform with agentic AI – from member administration and conference management to invoicing, publications and the public website. Around 90 % of back-office and backend processes now run automatically.

WHY IS IT RELEVANT FOR OUR CLIENTS?

Clients increasingly ask how far agentic AI can be trusted with real business processes. A first-hand case from our own network: the technical architecture, the controls and governance behind it, and the organisational change it takes.

SESSION 1 · 09:20 – 09:45

Human Right or Consumer Right?

Two concepts of privacy and what they mean in the age of AI

Gabriela Espinosa Cantú (Arochi & Lindner, Mexico)

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

Understanding privacy as a human right or as a consumer right leads to different legal and regulatory consequences for scope, limits on controllers and individual freedoms.

WHY IS IT RELEVANT FOR OUR CLIENTS?

AI raises new questions: can individuals sell their personal data for training AI systems, and how far does government access reach depending on the approach?

SESSION 2 · 09:45 – 10:10 · PANEL

Mind the Gap: New Privacy Laws

Managing compliance during the implementation period: a three-jurisdiction panel

Dalit Ben-Israel (Naschitz Brandes Amir, Israel)

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

A panel with experts from three jurisdictions on how to approach compliance with a new or amended law: setting priorities, closing gaps before it enters into force, and taking multijurisdictional compliance into account.

WHY IS IT RELEVANT FOR OUR CLIENTS?

Several countries have new privacy laws that recently took effect or have been enacted but are not yet in force. Experience from other jurisdictions helps.

SESSION 3 · 10:10 – 10:35

Drowning in Requests

Data subject rights at scale: volume, AI-generated requests and tactical use by claimants

Katie Hewson (Stephenson Harwood, UK)

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

Rights requests, and access requests in particular, are becoming increasingly burdensome given the volume of data, the use of AI by data subjects and the tactical use of rights by claimant lawyers. The session compares the challenges across members' jurisdictions and how we help clients reduce the burden.

WHY IS IT RELEVANT FOR OUR CLIENTS?

Clients face ever-increasing volumes of requests and are struggling to keep up. AI and rising expectations of data subjects are key drivers.

SESSION 4 · 10:35 – 11:00

Taking Control: Platform Liability for User-Generated Content

Russmedia, Coyote/WebGroup and the narrowing of safe harbours under the DSA and beyond

Peter Hense (Spirit Legal, Germany)

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

How recent CJEU rulings narrow safe-harbour protection for platforms that exercise control over content, what this means for the Digital Services Act, and how it compares with the UK Online Safety Act, US Section 230 case law and developments in Asia and South America.

WHY IS IT RELEVANT FOR OUR CLIENTS?

Platform liability now turns on control, ranking, moderation and monetisation. Clients need to review product design, content workflows, contracts and cross-border compliance.

11:00 – 11:30 Coffee break

SESSION 5 · 11:30 – 11:55 · CASE STUDY

Agentic AI on Trial: The Character.AI Decision

The Italian DPA's decision of 3 July 2026 as a reference case for AI enforcement

Chiara Agostini (RPLT, Italy)

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

The Italian DPA's decision against Character Technologies, Inc. covers transparency, the right to object to AI training, protection of minors, accountability, cross-border enforcement and the fault standard for sanctions under CJEU case C-807/21. Members are invited to bring analogous cases from their jurisdictions.

WHY IS IT RELEVANT FOR OUR CLIENTS?

A recent, comprehensive supervisory decision on generative and conversational AI that touches on nearly every theme relevant to agentic AI.

SESSION 6 · 11:55 – 12:20

Who Controls the Agent?

Controller, processor and joint controllership when AI acts autonomously

Rachel Hayes (William Fry, Ireland)

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

How the familiar roles of controller, processor and joint controller apply when agentic AI is involved.

WHY IS IT RELEVANT FOR OUR CLIENTS?

A new technology and a recurring client question.

SESSION 7 · 12:20 – 12:45 · WORKSHOP

Automated Decisions, Two Continents

Regulating automated decision-making in the US and the EU, from the AI Act to the Workday litigation

Odia Kagan (Fox Rothschild, USA)

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

A comparison of how the US and the EU regulate automated decision-making.

WHY IS IT RELEVANT FOR OUR CLIENTS?

Regulation is expanding rapidly in the US while the EU AI Act is ramping up, and there is active US litigation, including the discrimination lawsuit against Workday.

SESSION 8 · 12:45 – 13:10

One Incident, Many Clocks

Coordinating breach notifications under GDPR, NIS2, DORA and beyond

Julien Pétré (Molitor Avocats à la Cour, Luxembourg)

WHAT IS IT ABOUT?

A single incident may trigger parallel notification obligations under the GDPR, NIS2, DORA and national or sector-specific regimes, each with different thresholds, deadlines and authorities.

WHY IS IT RELEVANT FOR OUR CLIENTS?

For organisations operating across sectors and jurisdictions, coordinating these obligations has become critical for incident response.

LOOKING AHEAD · 13:10 – 13:20

See You in Lisbon

Introducing the next INPLP conference

Ricardo Henriques (Abreu Advogados, Portugal)

Ricardo Henriques presents the next INPLP conference in Lisbon and what members can look forward to.

13:20 – 13:30	Wrap-up and close of the scientific session
13:30 – 14:30	Lunch at Hotel W

The Conference at a Glance

Beyond the scientific session: three days of conversation, culture and Dutch hospitality. We gather at the meeting point 10 minutes before each programme item — the meeting points are listed with each day below.

Friday 20 NOVEMBER

14:50	MEETING POINT Royal Industrieele Groote Club, Dam 27 · the Groote Zaal. Please observe the club's dress code (house rules on igc.nl).
15:00 – 16:30	Afternoon tea with Femke Hendriks Chair of the executive board of The Privacy Collective (TPC) · Royal Industrieele Groote Club, Dam 27
17:20	MEETING POINT Lobby of W Amsterdam, Spuistraat 175
17:30 – 21:00	Opening dinner on a boat with a tour through the canals The boat docks at Singel 250, in front of the sports facility “Train More”
21:00 – 23:00	Drinks at the hotel bar W Amsterdam, Spuistraat 175

Saturday 21 NOVEMBER

08:50 — MEETING POINT
Great Room 1 and 2 Foyer, W Amsterdam — in the "Exchange Building", first floor

09:00 – 13:30 — Scientific Session
W Amsterdam · dress code: business casual · full programme on page 2

13:30 – 14:30 — Lunch at Hotel W
Great Room 2 Foyer, "Exchange Building", W Amsterdam

14:50 — MEETING POINT
Rijksmuseum, Museumstraat 1 — main entrance under the passage (with your back to the Museumplein, on the right). Please leave the hotel at 14:30/14:35: about 16 minutes by tram (9 minutes' ride plus the walk to and from the stops), 24 minutes on foot, 9–18 minutes by taxi.

15:00 – 17:00 — Private guided tour of the Rijksmuseum
Museumstraat 1

17:50 — MEETING POINT
Keizer Culinair, Elandsstraat 169–173

18:00 – 21:00 — Dinner with a cooking workshop
Keizer Culinair, Elandsstraat 169–173, 1016 RZ Amsterdam

from 22:00 — Drinks at the hotel bar
W Amsterdam, Spuistraat 175

Sunday 22 NOVEMBER

11:00 – 12:00 — Concert at the Concertgebouw
R. Strauss – Also sprach Zarathustra and the Rosenkavalier Suite · Concertgebouwplein 10, at the main entrance · doors open 10:15

12:00 — Farewell

Where we meet

W Amsterdam
Spuistraat 175 · conference hotel and scientific session · lunch in the Great Room 2 Foyer, “Exchange Building”

Canal boat
Singel 250, in front of “Train More” · opening dinner, Friday

Keizer Culinair
Elandsstraat 169–173 · cooking dinner, Saturday

Royal Industrieele Groote Club
Dam 27 · Groote Zaal · afternoon tea, Friday · club dress code applies

Rijksmuseum
Museumstraat 1 · main entrance under the passage · guided tour, Saturday

Concertgebouw
Concertgebouwplein 10 · main entrance · concert, Sunday

See you in Amsterdam.

11th INPLP Annual Conference · inplp.com